THE GRAND DUKE ALEXIS.

Preparations for His Reception by the Amerian Men-ol-War-The Duke to Visit the Navy Yard.

Vice Admiral Rowan arrived at the Navy Yard yesterday morning and proceeded on board the flag-chip Congress, Captain Davenport commanding. The arrangements for the reception of the royal visitor by the squadron are being rapidly completed. The arrangements for the reception of the royal visitor by the squadron are being rapidly completed. The vessels to take part in the event are the Congress, flagship; Iroquois, Captain Adams; Kansas, Commander Hattleid, and Severn, Commander Fitshuch, now on her way from Noriok. The Richmond, Commander J. R. Muliany, of the European squadron, expected here on the 29th inst, will participate, should she arrive in time, while the Wabash. Rear Admiral Aiden, now flitting out for the Mediterranean, will also take part, should she be in readiness to do so. The squadron, under command of Vice Admiral Rowan, will proceed to the Battery, and thence to Sandy Hook, to await the arrival of the Russian squadron. When it is signalled the receiving squadron will go forth to meet, and then will follow the usual excanage of solutes, after which the foreign men-of war will be coorted with all the honors to the Battery, and the visitors will there be met by the Reception Committee. After his return from Washington the Grand Duke will visit the Navy Yard. The marines, under the command of Colonel J. L. Broome, will turn out in full force, although the number in the Navy Yard is at present rather limited. Nothing is being spared to render the visit of the Duke as agreeable as possible. The employes in the Equipment Department, in charge of Commander Braine, are particularly exertful, and there is reason to believe that the royal visitor will be delighted with his inspection. The illness of Admiral Forter, who is confined to his house, is generally regretted.
